SALE OF SUPERIOR 1ST CLASS MOULMEIN TEAK SQUARE A

COMMERCIAL INTE

SATURDAY EVENING, 13TH MAY 1876.

THE Liverpool Cotton Market still shows the same inanimate position. Reuter's telegram of Friday reported the tone as steady, but private messages called it dull and to-day's advices are dull all round, the sales being only 6,000 bales. Spot prices have not moved in any way during the two days, but arrivals show great depression, the only public quotation being for Fully Fair Omra with the fair clause March shipment Cape 4¼d. per lb.

The American advices are still against the market, yesterday's New York telegram quoting Mid. Uplands July shipment at a further decline of ⅛ cent. per lb., which may be taken as indicating a continuance of favourable crop prospects.

The visible supply of Cotton for all Europe compares with the past two years as follows :—

	1876	1875	1874
Visible supply of all kinds	2,790,000	2,766,790	2,898,460
" " " Surats	540,000	920,660	900,100

The quantity of Cotton in and afloat for the U. K. only shows the following comparisons :—

	1876	1875	1874
Stock in Liverpool	1,000,000	961,110	772,050
" London	62,125	109,500	143,770
American Afloat	160,000	136,000	272,000
East Indian do.	190,000	301,000	400,000
	1,412,125	1,507,610	1,587,820
Price of Mid. Orleans	6 5-16d.	8 1-16d.	8¾d.
" Fair Dholleras	4¾d.	5¼d.	5 11-16d.
Difference	1 15-16d.	2 13-16d.	3 1-16d.

The American crop figures to date are as follows :—

	1876	1875	1874
Week's Receipts	26,000	20,000	23,000
" Exports to U.K.	10,000	16,000	28,000

" Stocks at the U. S. Ports	493,000	436,000	326,000

The Manchester Piece Goods Market on Friday was said to be dull and heavy, but the only change in quotations was an advance of ¼d. per lb. in 40s. Mule Twist, an advance however which is not borne out by private messages. The London General Produce Markets are without alteration.

A withdrawal of £288,000 from the Bank of England is advised yesterday, but in the absence of any information as to the cause, it is impossible to form an idea whether this may or may not be the beginning of a more active demand for money. Consols yesterday were at 96¾, an advance of ⅛ ; French Rentes remain at 105½.

Bar Silver is quoted by Reuter at 53½d., a decline of ¼d. from the previous day, but private telegrams we hear quote 53d. per oz. Owing to this, STERLING EXCHANGE to-day has been weaker again and yesterday's advance has been lost more particularly in private bills, of which the amount offering is comparatively small. For Bank bills the demand is very limited, and the Banks are therefore able to maintain their selling rates at a higher figure than they otherwise might. At the same time it must be borne in mind that we have now receded to about the equivalent of 1s. 8¼d. for Council drafts and unless a portion of the allotments on Wednesday are made under that figure, there is no reason to look for an immediate further fall. Later on the quotation for Silver will probably guide the market and there will most likely be a tendency to discount a further decline after the termination of our export season, but the result of Wednesday's biddings will rule the Market for another Mail at least, and there is not likely to be any great amount of business done until that result is known. We quote 30-days closing rates as follows :—

Bank Bills, on demand ... 1s. 8 7-16d. to 15-32d. P. R.
Do. telegraphic ... 1s. 8 7-16d. "
Do. 6 months' sight ... 1s. 8 11-16d. to 23-32d. "
Credits, 3 months' sight ... 1s. 8 11-16d. "
Documents, 3 months' sight ... 1s. 8¾d. "

On Calcutta demand bills have been sold to-day at par. For 60 days sight the quotation is still 1 per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER continues firm and unchanged. Fours, Rs. 101¼ to ⅜ ; Fours-and a half Rs. 101¾ ; Fives-and-a-half Rs. 103⅜.

The SHARE MARKET has been quiet with but little change. Bank of Bombays are weaker and ¼ per cent lower. Mofussil Co.'s shares are Rs. 5 lower. Spinning and Weaving Mill scrip is slightly irregular. We note an advance of Rs. 10 in Flemings and Rs. 5 in Great Easterns, while Madras Spinning have declined Rs. 15, Madras United Rs. 5 and Morarjee Spinning Rs. 5 per share.

COTTON to-day has been a very stupid market. On the strength of Reuter reporting the Liverpool Market steady and comparatively small arrivals, dealers have been somewhat firmer in their demands, while buyers on the other hand have held off for a decline, and the extent of buying has consequently been small. Prices on the Green, moreover are still lower than up country, so there has not been much doing in fall-pressed Cotton. The arrivals yesterday were 6,552 bales, consisting chiefly of Bhownuggur, Veravul and Compta Vingorla by boat and Wudwan Veerumgaum, Barsee and Kahmgaum by rail.

FREIGHTS continue dull and declining both by steam and sail. By steamers £2-2 6 has been done for Liverpool to a small extent, but shippers are holding off for £2. By Iron sailing ships considerable engagements have been made at £1-17-6 but the market closes weak at that, and for Wooden vessels it is almost impossible to give a quotation.

PIECE GOODS continue very dull with a downward tendency. It is impossible to quote any actual change from day to day, but within the past week, prices are fully one anna per piece lower on the leading makes of Grey cloths.

Head of Intel igence.

THE FIRST Number of the New Series of the OVERLAND SUMMARY OF THE BOMBAY GAZETTE is a considerable improvement on anything we have yet seen turned out in similar shape. It contains 32 pages, and is replete with interesting information on Indian subjects of all kinds. At the price, four annas, the Summary is ridiculously cheap. Sixty-nine columns of closely printed reading matter all for a mere sixpence! The fact is almost beyond belief, by reason of its very marvellousness. In addition to a well-arranged and judiciously-selected mass of intelligence there is a series of articles on the topics of the times, reproduced from the daily editions of the Bombay Gazette. On the whole, or taking it all in all, the Overland Summary, published at the Bombay Gazette Press, is about the best, if it is not the best, we have seen ; and people desirous of keeping their friends in the mother-country well informed of all that is transpiring in this far-off land would be guilty of an unpardonable sin of omission if they neglected forwarding by each Mail copies of the really excellent publication we have been noticing.—Sindian.

STEAMER REPORTS.

GALLE, 13TH MAY, 7.55 A.M.

GALLE, 14TH MAY.

French mail steamer Meinam, from Calcutta, arrived.

French steamer Anadyr, from Aden, arrived.

It is generally understood in the service, the Calcutta Statesman is told, that Mr. Eden has gone home to secure the reversion of Sir Richard Temple's appointment; and that if he succeeds, the latter will retire towards the end of the year.

The other day a gentleman advertised in Bombay for a second-hand piano, and received a reply from somebody who said he had a very good piano for sale, made by Mr. Honoris Causa! Those who know the inscription on the Great Exhibition medals will appreciate the joke.

A gunner soldier who was reported by the Himalaya Chronicle, a short time ago to have deliberately murdered three natives when coming off parade at Shahjehanpore is Private Magrath, of the 2.22nd Regiment. He has been committed to take his trial at the Allahabad High Court for murder.

him much better than does the recorded Nellgherry air; and he will beat a retreat as soon as the season admits of his paying the Western Coast a visit.

During the recent sessions held at Jhelum by the Commissioner of the Rawulpindi Division, a Police Sergeant belonging to the District Police was tried and found guilty of misappropriation of certain unclaimed property, which was committed to his charge. He was sentenced to seven years' rigorous imprisonment.

Not content with expounding and justifying the dark intentions of Government, the Pioneer seems to have been seized with such an apologetic fit that it is now busy writing weak articles to prove that "there is a soul of good as we tried to show the other day, in an evil rate of exchange." Couldjan "official journal" do more? Could the habit of "apologising" go further?

We quote the following news from the Lahore paper:—"Major Sandeman, we hear, has halted at Mustung to rest the troops forming his escort and to allow time for cholera infection to be shaken off. The men are said to be in excellent health and, with their officers, are thoroughly enjoying the delightful climate of the Mustung valley. Another kaffila has passed safely through the Bolan pass without any military escort."

From the figures given in the latest infanticide report, for the N. W. Provinces, it appears that last year the percentage of girls in the proclaimed districts rose 2 per cent, and this increase is attributed directly to the suppression of the habit of killing female infants. Sir John Strachey looks forward hopefully to a time when every Rajpoot village shall have as many girls as boys in it, as many young women as youths.

Some reports got into circulation, as they are apt to do whenever a great man has a headache, that Lord Lytton was seriously ill the other day, when a telegram announced that His Lordship was suffering from a bilious attack. There was no foundation whatever for these rumours, the climatic changes His Lordship has undergone in the course of a few months being sufficient to account for a temporary sickness.

The Bank of Bengal rates of interest and discount were reduced one cent. all round on Thursday last, and one per cent. was taken off the margin on loans on Four and Four and a half per cent. Paper. Confidence is now thoroughly restored in the Calcutta money market, the Indian Daily News says, and there is now every probability of a steady further decline in the price of money. On the other hand, the sterling market for remitters not only declares a worse position, but the appearances are even more discouraging than they were.

The Englishman thinks that after all soda water in India may not be so bad as some medical man has said it is. Our contemporary says:—"To condemn Indian soda water and lemonade, generally, as unwholsome, because the samples of such aerated waters, procured no one knows where, were discovered, on analysis, to be bad, is alike illogical and unjust. So far from the public having any guarantee that the aerated waters analysed by Professor Wanklyn fairly represented Indian aerated waters in general, they may, for aught that is known, have been selected for their impurity."

An action was brought a few days ago in the High Court, Calcutta, against Mr. A. G. Roussac, a bill and share broker, for the sum of Rs. 3,140 with interest, money paid him by Mr. C. Henwood, manager of the Puttiala and Subathoo mines, for the purchase of Indian Government Bonds. The money was forwarded to Mr. Roussac at the end of September last and its receipt acknowledged by him, but no bonds have been sent in return, nor has Mr. Henwood been able to get any replies to the numerous letters he sent to Mr. Roussac. No one appeared on behalf of the defendant, and Mr. Justice Pontifex gave a decree for the plaintiff for the amount claimed with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. and costs on scale No. 1.

The China Mail arrived yesterday, a day or two earlier than usual, but the news brought by it is very meagre. The Foochow Herald hears that "important despatches from Peking have been received by the high officials, during the first days of April. It is believed that the Central Government has made an urgent appeal to the authorities of Fohkien for assistance in quelling the rebellions in the North-western and Southern parts of the Empire." The first-named "rebellion" is of course the war in Turkestan, and the Herald's information tallies with the report that an urgent demand for funds has been made on several coast provinces. The last named (in Kwangsi) is said to be a serious affair, and it is believed that a very strong effort on the part of the Imperial Government will be required to crush it. The Peking correspondent of the North China Herald mentioned the outbreak, in a recent letter, but there are no particulars.

As a rule nobody cares to quarrel with the respectable platitudes that are daily published by a local contemporary; but we are really compelled to differ from it when it says that "Lord Salisbury, and the Manchester men whose case he so strongly supports, have pointed to the reductions of duty which were effected by the new Tariff as a proof that the Government of India was as a matter of fact able to dispense with revenue," and calls this a "plausible argument." We are afraid that the Marquis of Salisbury and the men of Manchester have not yet been able to arrive at the conclusion that any Government on earth, much less a government so expensive as that of India, can exist without revenue. When the Marquis of Salisbury and the men of Manchester really say what the Times of India says they have already said, one of two things will have happened; either the Secretary of State and the men of Manchester will be raging lunatics, or the Millennium will have arrived in India.

The Penang Gazette of 29th April says:—"We are grieved to note that the news we published in our last issue with regard to Acheen, purporting to come from a native trader, has turned out to be altogether false and is, in fact, little better than an ordinary bazaar rumour." The same paper publishes the following news from Acheen:—"Our latest advices from Acheen are dated the 27th instant. The Dutch had been chiefly employed in strengthening their position. A few nights ago the Achinese attacked a convict quarter situated near one of the Dutch outposts, but they were speedily repulsed, leaving a few killed behind. Cholera is now raging among the Achinese, whereas the health of the Dutch troops is better than it has been for some time. The Achinese troops are said to be very numerous round and about the Dutch positions, and it is not improbable that we shall soon hear of another attack. Judging from the large quantities of building materials and coolies constantly forwarded to Oleh-Leh, the seaport of Acheen Proper, the Dutch Settlements there must be making rapid progress."

The Calcutta correspondent of the Pioneer confirms the statement made that Sir R. Temple has been trying to find out who wrote the Black Pamphlet. He says:—"The report that Sir Richard Temple has been at some pains to identify the writer of the Black Pamphlet is, I am informed, mainly correct. The Lieutenant-Governor's overtures did not, however, meet with that ready response which under the circumstances might have been expected from the supposed culprit. The public, however, affect to recognize, in the sudden deportation of a young civilian to one of the out-of the-way districts of Bengal, the fact that Sir Richard is by no means unmindful of the familiar aphorism that silence gives consent. It is circumstance which after all may be nothing more than a curious coincidence; a tinge of probability is, however, lent to the transaction in the fact that the district magistrate under whose fostering care the supposed offender has been placed, enjoys a reputation similar to that of the eccentric pedagogue who occasionally advertizes himself in the Spectator as the sole inventor of a magic process which infallibly reduces the most refractory boy to perfect obedience in the short space of three weeks. As the patient in the present instance is an adult, we may fairly take it, I think, that a much shorter period will be sufficient to make him see the error of his ways."

Some tradesmen in London keep their own poets, and a local contemporary seems to keep on hand a "Special" correspondent of the same genus as the tradesmen's poets. This Special's latest effusions are dated Malta, and he has already indulged in some superb bits of tradesman-poet description for the benefit of Bombay politicians. April 6th seems to have been altogether a remarkable day in Malta. "Morning broke in a mood to please the most exacting of us"—which was very good indeed of Morning—and the "shores of Sicily were seen turning up in the distance." The shores of Sicily are evidently of an acrobatic turn of mind, and we hope they did not injure themselves much when they "turned up in the distance." Knots of gazers eagerly "searched the edge of the horizon for a sight of the Serapis." We are glad to think that no injury to life or limb resulted through this perilous operation; an edge of a horizon is something, we should say, which is not to be trifled with, even when it is supposed to hide the "sight" of the Serapis. At 9-40 a.m. precisely the "numerous fleet in the harbour belched out their welcome"—a nasty, disoccuppy sort of thing to do at the best;—and the fleet not only belched out its welcome, but it sent "white curling smoke wreathes eddying upward until the Serapis was hidden from view." Was the Serapis in the air? Perhaps she appeared in Malta in the shape of a balloon. But this was nothing to other wonders which the Serapis achieved. When the smoke that had curled so far upwards as to obscure the Serapis had cleared away, "the prow of the great ship was seen quietly cleaving its way." What becames of the other parts of the ship? It was unfriendly of the prow, to say the least of it, to go away from the rest of the Serapis and cleave its own selfish way. It would appear, however, as if the prow had again resumed connection with the other parts of the "great ship," for we are told that ultimately the Serapis "took up her berth amid a scene of great rejoicing." The fleet in the harbour was "happily an imposing one, and, dressed with flags, added immensely to the scene"—a very proper thing to do, considering its position. When a number of wonderful things had taken place, and the Prince was comfortably landed, "deputations from the castles, cities, and suburbs of Malta," waited upon him. We wonder where the suburbs of Malta are. Probably somewhere near the suburbs of Italy. Twice does our contemporary's Special take the trouble to state that the Prince was dressed in the uniform of a Field Marshal. He also dwells pathetically upon the fact that in the fulness of time, "the great procession had slowly melted away outside; but an immense number of cockades of red and white ribbon, surmounted by the badge of the Prince of Wales, worn by its members, was (sic) prominent in the streets long after." This procession which melted away until nothing but its cockades were left bears a certain resemblance to the proverbial man who was so frightened that he melted into his boots. Subsequently, the Special informs us, the "boom of a gun" from the flagship "lit up the whole fleet as by magic with lights;" and that "as one could hear the bugles on board ring out their signals the colours were changed with grand effect." We have nothing to say to this wonderful boom of a gun, which performed greater achievements than any son of a gun could; but why the fact of person hearing bugles should make anything change colour puzzles us entirely. It is needless to call any further attention to our contemporary's "Special" correspondence, the writer of which emulates the special correspondent of the Daily Telegraph who, the other day, when writing a gushing description of the Nagurs of Jeypore, gravely and pedantically informed the people of England, or of London rather, that the Government of India had been compelled, last year, to send an armed Expedition to quell these turbulent people—apparently believing that the Nagurs of Rajpootana and the Nagas of the Assam frontier are one and the same people! Somebody must have been hoaxing the Daily Telegraph; but in such literature as the Times of India's Maltese special correspondence, the writer evidently owes his ridiculousness to native-born talent.

INDIAN NEWS-LETTERS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

BARODA, 13TH MAY.

Since my letter of the 1st instant several fires occurred in the city and its suburbs, but two are deserving of mention. One fire occurred not far away from the Baroda millionnaire, Gopalrao Myral's, palatial residence, and this is a locality where the Brahmins mostly abound, and when the alarm of fire was raised several of the Brahmins who are solely dependent on the munificence of Gopalrao took the precaution (a pseudo one though) and as a checkmate to the destroying element brought out from their nests the images of the dumb majesty of the Gunputtee, and commenced chaunting shloks in anticipation of staying the destroying progress, but alas! to no good purpose, but happily the officers and men of the State troops arrived most opportunely and rendered the most valuable assistance before much damage was done. However two very large buildings were destroyed. Another fire on an extensive scale occurred very early yesterday morning, near the Larreepoora on the western gate of the city, and about forty buildings were burnt down. The supply of water on such occasions is very defective and it behoves the authorities to effect some desirable arrangement thereon. The destruction of property by fire on the 1st instant is calculated to be no less than fifteen lakhs of rupees.

The weather, I am glad to say, is not so very oppressive now as we had of late, for the mornings are very cloudy and cool and pleasant. Some cases of cholera, but of a mild type, are still reported in the city. The city folks are interdicted from entering the British cantonment without being armed with a pass from the camp authorities.

KURRACHEE, 6TH MAY.

Colonel Wallace, Judge of the Small Causes Court of Kurrachee, has been transferred to Shikarpore as Collector and Magistrate of that district. Mr. W. Foxton, B. A., acting Collector of Shikarpore, is expected here daily to take up the office of Judge of the Small Causes Court of Kurrachee; until his arrival Major Ross temporarily conducts the duties of Superintendent of the Kurrachee Jail and Judge of the Small Causes Court. As soon as he is relieved by Mr. Foxton, Major Ross will proceed to Europe on furlough for two years. Both Colonel Wallace and Major Ross have given general satisfaction in the performance of their duties on the bench, the majority of the cases coming on before the Court rest on the appreciation of evidence, in which old Sindees are more expert than civilians and other new comers from the Bombay side. Major LeMesurier, R. E., Deputy Consulting Engineer for Railways in Sind, left Kurrachee for Bombay by yesterday's mail steamer. During his stay here he had gained a number of friends by his liberal and agreeable disposition. He was very popular amongst the natives, and never thought it infra-dig to mix in a few minutes conversation with the poorest native. He was one of our best cricketters and sportsmen. He will be very much missed by us during the ensuing hot weather games and sports. Mr. J. Campbell, Deputy Auditor and Storekeeper, S. P. and D. Railway Company, left yesterday for home on seven months' furlough. Mr. Tyndall, First Class District Deputy Collector and Magistrate, proceeds to England direct by to-day's steamer on three months' leave.

The weather is very warm.

Now that the Law Member of the Legislative Council of India is busily engaged in codifying laws and reducing a number of Acts on any one subject into one Act, perhaps I could suggest certain Acts being cancelled and one general Act passed for all India. I allude to Bombay Regulation 8 of 1827, Acts 27 of [illegible] 1864, with regard to certificates [illegible] minors, be

BOMBAY.

Government Workhouse.—There were thirteen European vagrants in the Government Workhouse yesterday.

A Warning to Buggy Drivers.—A hack buggy driver, named Abdool Cadur, was on Saturday fined Rs. 5 by Mr. C. P. Cooper, at the Fort Police Court, for being drunk while in charge of his public conveyance.

Virginia Sobillizzi left on Thursday and sailed for Hull on Saturday. The Vixen is still loading for Liverpool. The cargoes of Branksome Hall, Cella and Timor are in course of delivery at the dock.

The Effect of Drink.—A Coroner's inquest was held yesterday, (Sunday) at Narron Dhooroo Cross Lane on view of the body of a Hindoo, named Rowjee Jivunt. Deceased was a silk dyer and an habitual drunkard. Upon the evidence adduced the following verdict was returned by the jury:—"That the death of the deceased was caused by apoplexy from excessive drinking."

Cruelty to Animals.—Three cart drivers, named Sewram Moroo, Muckia Rowjee, and Tookaram Babajee, No. 1 was fined Rs. 5 and the other two Rs. 3 each on Saturday, at the Girgaum Police Court, by Mr. Dossbhoy Framjee, for cruelly torturing their bullocks, charged at the instance of Messrs. Smith and Nutty, agents to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

H. M.'s House of Correction.—There were in all 297 prisoners in H. M.'s House of Correction yesterday. Of these 53 prisoners were under sentences from the High Court, 212 by the Magistrates of Police, 1 by the Court of Petty Sessions, 28 by Military Courts-Martial and 3 by Naval Courts-Martial. Of the prisoners 229 were natives and the remaining 68 Europeans.

H. M.'s Common Jail.—There were in all 378 prisoners in H. M.'s Common Jail yesterday. On the criminal side there were 308 prisoners including 19 women, of whom 44 were non-labour prisoners and 264 for hard labour. On the civil side there were 70 prisoners including 4 women. Of these latter 16 were under warrants from the High Court and 54 from the Small Causes Court.

Obstructing the Public Thoroughfare.—A coachman, named Muckon Jogee, was on Saturday fined Rs. 7 by the Senior Magistrate, at the Fort Police Court, for washing his master's horse on the public road at Chinch Bunder street, on which occasion it appears that the horse had bitten a Hindoo named Gopall Bhowany, rather seriously. Rs. 5 of the fine, if recovered, was ordered to be paid to the injured man.

Assault at Sea.—A West Indian seaman, named George Millar, of the British ship Cornwallis, was sentenced on Saturday by Mr. C. P. Cooper, at the Fort Police Court, to four months' hard labour in the House of Correction, for assaulting Captain Bonniface, the master of that vessel, on the 1st April last at sea, and also for refusing to do duty on board that ship on the same date. The prisoner pleaded guilty to both the charges.

Alleged Charges against a Government Contractor.—On Saturday last, at the Fort Police Court, a police naique, named Wittoo Sawunt Bhick Sawunt, of the Ratnagherry police, and three other policemen of the same police establishment, appeared before Mr. C. P. Cooper and obtained a summons against Mr. J. A. Shepherd, the Government contractor for steam ferries, whom they charged with assaulting and obstructing public servants in the discharge of their public duties and omitting to assist the said public servants when bound by law to give assistance and also for wrongful confinement. The summonses were made returnable for to-morrow, the 16th instant, at 2 p. m.

Bombay Port Trust.—The annual inspection of the port by the Trustees will take place on Thursday next, the 18th instant. The Trustees will embark at 8-30 a. m. from the Apollo Bunder on board the Oorun proceeding up the western side of the harbour (passing the different bunders, shoals and beacons) and stopping off Mazagon at 9 to pick up any gentlemen who may wish to embark there, thence to the westward of Butcher's Island round Elephanta to the northward, passing near the Port Trust property at Elephanta, thence along the eastern side of the harbour to Kennery Lighthouse. On returning they will inspect the Outer Light Ship, Prongs Lighthouse, and Inner Light Vessel; arriving off the Apollo Bunder at about 6 p. m. A steam launch will be in attendance at the Mazagon pier to convey members on board the Oorun.

Assaults.—On Saturday, at the Girgaum Police Court, a Pathan named Futhakhan Ramjan, was fined Rs. 20 by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, or in default to suffer one month's rigorous imprisonment in the Common Jail, for assaulting Rustomjee Eduljee on the 5th instant at DeLisle Road; Rs. 15 of the fine, if recovered, was ordered to be paid to complainant as compensation. The defendant was further bound over in the sum of Rs. 100 to keep the peace towards all Her Majesty's subjects on the application of Mr. Inspector Gough, who said that the Pathans, of whom the present defendant is one of the lot employed at the B. B. & C. I. Railway workshops at Parel, had frequently given the police a great deal of trouble in consequence of their unruly behaviour, and it is very probable that this defendant might repeat the offence.—Another noted character, named Abbas Ooseman, was also fined by the same Magistrate, on Saturday, Rs. 15 for assaulting a woman named Gunga.

Attempted Fraud by a Native Seaman.—On Saturday, at the Girgaum Police Court, a Mahomedan seaman, named Abbas Ossman bin Abdool Rayman, was charged before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, at the instance of Mr. William Henry Walker, the Assistant Shipping Master of this port, with fraudulently and dishonestly using as genuine a forged document, knowing the same to be forged in respect of a certificate of service held by the prisoner Abbas Ossman bin Abdool Rayman, bearing the signatures of Mr. W. H. Walker, the Assistant Shipping Master and Captain George J. Babot, of the P. and O. steamship Venetia, which signatures are both forgeries. It appears on the 11th instant Mr. Walker was shipping a crew of lascars for the P. and O. steamship Bokhara when prisoner tendered his services and produced the certificate of service in question, as a voucher for his previous service when it was discovered that the certificate was a forgery. The case stands adjourned for hearing to Saturday next, the prisoner being remanded to jail.

Our Burial Scandals.—The Calcutta Daily News, noticing the letter recently in our columns about the neglect of one of the clergy to attend a funeral at Sewree cemetery, writes as follows:—"These church and burial scandals are becoming too common: and it is high time that the church, or churches, in the widest sense of the term, rose to a conception of proper duty respecting the burial of the dead. It is not the least strange that those who profess to be most religious are most frequently concerned in the perpetration of these scandals; and the part of the good Samaritan has frequently to be performed by some so called "ungodly" wretch, whose sense of propriety is in advance of his professions. We can illustrate this position by the Entally case, if need be; and we recall an instance that took place many years ago in England, in which this sense of propriety, wanting in the clergy and other officers of the church, was found in two "rough-diamonds" in fustian. At a certain church, in a large town, there were funerals daily, and it was the custom to take "respectable" corpses into the church to be "read over," while the coffins and corpses of paupers were left at the door outside. Two "rude" men were strolling in the church-yard, possibly from a neighbouring tavern, and walking up to the church-door they accosted the sexton, and asked what that body was left out of the church for, while others were taken inside.—"Oh, he's a pauper, and 'we' don't read over paupers."—"Why not?"—"The parish doesn't pay for them." "Parish doesn't pay for 'em! Then I supposes t'person'll not read over them? What does he charge?"—"A shilling." "Here, then, lets' tak him in. He shall not go to hell for want of a shilling." They paid the shilling and they carried the body of the pauper into the church that his soul might have the supposed benefit of the service. The practical result was that that was probably the last pauper body left at the door of the church, without "benefit of clergy." But who in this case showed the Christian spirit? Not the clergyman who would not read without his shillings, not the parish officers who refused to pay for mere paupers: but the rude men who saw no ground for distinction in the church or at the grave-side. "For as much as ye did it to these the least of my brethren, ye did it unto Me." What a comment on profession and practice! and yet we hear complaints that the people are alienated from the church.

The total number of deaths registered on Saturday was 14, of whom 10 were Hindoos, 2 Mahomedans and 2 native Christians.

MISS MINNIE WILLIAMS'S BENEFIT.—"SIR WILLIAM DON" PERFORMING AT THE GRANT ROAD THEATRE.

The success attending the performance by the Star Company at the Grant Road Theatre, on Saturday night, would be quite sufficient proof to any one not previously convinced of the fact of the popularity enjoyed by the young beneficiare, Miss Minnie Williams. When Miss Williams first came to Bombay, a few years ago, she was almost a child; but even then her singing and acting attracted general attention, and a good deal of admiration. Since that time, she has made a tour through India with the Star Company. When she returned here, two or three months ago, it was evident that she had improved very much, and she soon secured the position of first favourite. Miss Williams has a true appreciation of her art, and whatever part she plays, she always acts with taste and judgment. The pieces presented on Saturday night were a farce, specially prepared by a Bombay gentleman for the occasion, and entitled "a Day at Khandalla," (which, we may say, first attracted admiration in our columns two years ago) and the burlesque, "The Field of the Cloth of Gold." The farce, as presented, did not show to advantage. Justice was not done to it, a male member of the company, to whom one of the principal parts was entrusted, playing in the most wretched manner. With the exception of Mr. Comerford, there is really not a single decent actor in the company. In "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," they had the benefit of the services of a practised amateur, called "Sir William Don" in the playbills, who undertook the part of Henry VIII, and played it to the best of his abilities, doubtless. Mr. Comerford was quite at home as Frances I; and Mr. J Smyth made a very amusing Queen Catharine. What ought to be the part of the piece, Sir Guy the Cripple, was rather a poor exhibition; though that was not the only drawback to the burlesque. Miss Williams and the three Misses Ford all looked well and acted well, and each of them was rewarded with several encores and a number of bouquets. The dresses, all round, were very good, Miss Williams's being particularly pretty. Throughout the first portion, the burlesque "went" splendidly, but it flagged a little afterwards, though concluding as happily as it had begun. Miss Williams and Miss Marian Ford both sang several songs very nicely; Miss Flora Ford gave her saucy song and dance, which never fails to raise a hearty laugh; and Miss Ada Ford went through a complicated step-dance, which secured her an encore, and hearty applause. The same pieces will be played to-night at the small theatre in the Fort. We may add our regret that the distinguished amateur did not choose another stage name than "Sir William Don," who was really a good actor; and we may also add our regret that he was so badly prepared for the performance of his part.

INDIAN EXTRACTS.

SANITARY MEASURES FOR SIMLA.

("Pioneer's," Simla Correspondent.)

A grand scheme is talked of by the way, the object of which is the reconstruction of this bazaar—of all native Simla in fact. The idea has originated, I believe, with Sir Andrew Clarke who has brought a little Australian experience to bear on the sanitation of this, the Viceroy's "shooting box." There was once a disreputable town in the Colonies, it seems, which the local authorities determined to rebuild a la Haussmann. So a plan of the place, as it ought to be, was first drawn up, and then the ragged blocks of houses were attached in detail. One section was bought up, knocked down, and rebuilt first, the new houses being planted in the positions they were required to occupy according to the regeneration scheme. Some of these were then let, others were sold, and so the municipality got itself in funds again, and was enabled to go to work with a second section. In this way tediously perhaps, but economically, the whole place was reconstructed without any outlay to speak of. Indeed, the authorities were merely a few hundred pounds out of pocket when the work was done. Starting with a capital of half a lakh, the local Government of Simla believes it could reconstruct the native town on these principles; and in the interests, not merely of æsthetics, but of health for every one required to live here it is ardently desirable that the resolution should be carried out. At present I believe the drainage of native Simla will not bear talking about. How to set it right, is a question which cannot very readily be answered even by the regenerated municipality; at best a makeshift system is all that can be attempted on a parched mountain without a drop of water to spare for the establishment of purifying streams. The folly of building Simla just here is more obvious when one comes to deal with the water question than in reference to any other objections to the site. But if the grand sanitation scheme be only sanctioned, water will be brought hither in sufficient quantity to provide, not merely for the daily waste of the population, but for flushing drains as well. Two reservoirs would be established under this project, one near the church, I believe, a covered-in receptacle big enough to contain fifteen days supply of water. The road would pass over it, and if some evening when Simla residents are gaily cantering

Lord Plantagenet. "It shall be seen to, Madam!"

DOCTRINE AND DRINK.

Is announcing the decease of a late priest, the Times observes that—

"His death was the natural termination of a long illness, brought on by too close an attention to theological studies."

Theology is like wine, beer, and spirits, calumniously called intoxicating liquors, because they do not intoxicate unless they are abused or taken in excess; but then they do, and their continued abuse may end in delirium tremens. Theology too closely and deeply studied may prove, for the student excessively addicted to it, like brandy-and-water—too much of a good thing.

LINES PICKED UP AT THE BRIXTON RINK.

Upon the Rink the lady sat,
Beside her lay her dainty hat,
All crumpled;
She looked the picture of distress,
So dusty was her pretty dress,
And rumpled!

"I can't get up," in faltering tone,
She said. I thought that, perhaps, alone
She would not.
I picked her up. She was not hurt—
'Twas but the tightness of her skirt—
She could not!

RINKOMANIACS.

The following cases of this very painful malady are reported from Brigton, London, and elsewhere:

The Persevering Curate.—Skates in blue spectacles and a suit of clerical black. Progresses slowly and meekly. Will carry in his right hand (if permitted so to do) a silk umbrella. Tendency to indulge in mild flirtations with "not pretty but nice" girls of a certain or rather uncertain age.

The defiant Mamma.—A matron of sixty, who tries vainly to look forty. Progresses slowly, but with much show of stern determination. Tendency to embonpoint, and extreme caution.

The Would-be Siren.—A playful but anxious coquette, painfully attempting to stand upon wheels. Unaccustomed as she is to public (or any) skating, she moves with great difficulty. She is very anxious to avail herself of male assistance. Arch, but nervous. Tendency to fall ungracefully.

The Accomplished Cad.—Can manage the outside edge. Knows how to skate "à la teapot." Is accustomed to progressing at the rate of sixteen miles an hour. Thinks it "fun" to upset children and defenceless females. Tendency to receive chastisement from fathers, brothers, and husbands without asking for redress.

The Daring Boarding-School Miss.—Skates well, but bashfully. Thinks Rinking "Oh so nice!" and seeks assistance from her cousins and their friends. Tendency to get engaged "it well—not wisely."

The Youthful-Minded Matron.—Skates slowly, but with much finish. Fond of smiling amiably. Likes to go round with her youngest daughter (aged sixteen—dressed ten), in the hope that beholders may believe that her hair is real, her complexion is genuine, and that she has never purchased her teeth from the dentist. Tendency to look absurd.

The Awkward Adonis.—Skates with ease, but without grace. Seems to have very prominent arms and legs. Tendency to comic ups and downs. The comic singers at the music-halls in their less successful "creations."

Mr. Punch.—No, that at least is a calumny; for spite of the fashion, this clever gentlemen is not a Rinkomaniac—yet!

"SILENT SPIRIT."

Both Pat and Sandy
At a fight are handy,
Though the Scot be as stolid as his fooman is frisky;
So no wonder the shindy
Waxes warm and windy,
When the combatants are Celts and the casus belli Whiskey?

Says Pat, "By japers,
Here 's Old Nick at his capers,
Changin' good spurrits to evil, blendin' Scotch stuff wid potheen!
Wid the blessin' o' St. Pathrick,
I'll be stoppin' that thrick.
'Tis not in Oirland's eye you'll find the wearin' of the Green."

Sly Sandy answers "Eh, mon,
Ye ken we find it pay, mon!
Where there 's bawbees to be got, where 's the foe Scots winna grapple?
To drink you Irish toddy
It wad just need a body
Wi' a wame o' whinstane, and airn-linin' to his thrapple."

Says Mr. Punch, "Good spirit
Will assert its merit,
Whether it reek of Scotia's peat or of green Erin's soil;
But 'pure' or 'blended,'
Be no brand befriended
That owes its fire to vitriol, its smack to fusel oil."

'Twixt "Glasgow" and "Dublin"
Punch will not be troublin'
His Rhadamanthine judgment to divide the laurels;
But he 's nothing loath,
In a tumbler of both,
To drink health to each honest brand, and speedy truce to quarrels!

And allow him to say,
In his own friendly way,
There are Members, Scotch and Irish, who, with all their merit,
Would be none the worse—
To put it plain and terse—
For a rather larger "blending" of the "Silent Spirit!"

EASTER EGGS A-HATCHING, OR AN-ADDLING

What are we all doing this Easter? Mr. Punch will hazard a few conjectures.

The Prime Minister is settling in his own mind the ceremonial details of the coronation of Her Imperial Majesty, the Empress of India, at Delhi, on the banks of the Jumna, the next cool season. He is also understood to be preparing another surprise for Parliament, the People, and the Press; but whether he intends still further to enlarge the Peerage, or level the mounds on the borders of the Serpentine, or augment the salaries of the Civil Service, or transport Cleopatra's Needle from the Nile to Northumberland Avenue, or negotiate a loan with Messrs. Rothschild for the immediate construction of the Sub-Channel Tunnel between England and France, is shrouded in that impenetrable future lying beyond the Easter recess from which time alone can withdraw the mystic veil.

The Keepers at the Zoological gardens are speculating as to the habits, tempers, and dispositions of the various beasts and birds, now on their way from Hindostan to an honorable captivity in the Regent's Park, and wondering what effect the Royal Tales Bill will have on the tigers.

The Lord Mayor and Sheriffs are wondering whether they will be baronetted and knighted on the occasion of the Visit of the Prince of Wales to the City after his return from India.

Sundry Mayors and Corporations, with the aid of their Town Clerks, are pondering the terms of the addresses to be presented to His Royal Highness when he sets foot once more on his native shores.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer is wondering whether the Americans would remit him the unexpected balance of the Geneva award. (Doesn't he wish he may get it?)

The Talookdars of Oude are meditating a visit to London, to testify their joy at the fulfilment of their passionate longing to have an Empress to rule over them. When they come, they will be presented at a levee, see some theatres (whether permitting), and attend one or more of the great May charity dinners.

Messrs. Black, Brown, Gray, Green, Pink, and White are wondering whether their landscapes, seascapes, portraits, historical subjects, and touching little domestic pieces, have been accepted by the Royal Academy.

Thousands of excellent persons are longing for the arrival of the month of May, that they may troop to Exeter Hall and other uncommodious buildings, to hear most interesting statements of the operations during the past year of the Society for the Amelioration of the Lazzaroni of Naples, and listen to stirring appeals in support of the Anti-Gregorian Chants and Vestments League.

Those peculiar people who spend their lives in the pursuit of pleasure and the cultivation of amusement are hoping some new deverdon will be devised for them this season.

Some dear children at Sandringham are wondering what presents Papa will bring them from India.

The weather is the cause of many anxious thoughts and speculations. The betting was in favour of Hyems against Vertumnus. But it has changed within the last few days; almost as suddenly and as decidedly as the betting on the Boat Race.
